I am a certified project manager, scrum master and business analytics expert with over 15 years' experience in the technology industry. Over the course of my career, I have worked in areas related to operations, IT and product development. As a software integration expert well-versed in process improvement, I embrace change and excel at making challenging transitions painless while keeping things upbeat.

Over the course of my industry tenure, I have worked with a number of cutting-edge tech-based start-up companies. I enjoy managing projects for industry leaders and building the tools that allow these companies to thrive. Moreover, I intricately understand how to build processes and analytics reports for projects, tasks, and teams to ensure success.

In my capacity as Senior IT Project Management Consultant at Avantage, I manage a variety of software development and implementation projects for external customers. Internally, I advise on and manage an improvement project for staff management, capacity planning, payroll, and CRM software. I understand how to facilitate a positive and productive environment for the project team, and I effectively communicate with all parties involved.

In addition to my passion for all things analytics, I am a lifelong learner, and I am usually engaged in some form of part-time studies. In my downtime, I enjoy surfing, skiing, biking, and rock climbing. I love travelling, exploring new cultures and tasting exotic foods.
