Areas of Focus & Expertise

- Project & Program Management
- Governance, Risk and Compliance Management
- Continuous Improvement

I am a senior program, project and product manager who successfully manages project teams to ensure final deliverables are of the highest quality. With over 33 years of industry experience, I feel truly passionate about project management and consider myself fortunate to have worked with industry-leading organizations including IBM, Singapore Airlines, PHSA, Vancity and Ritchie Brothers over the course of my career.

I plan, manage and report on project deliverables, and engage and collaborate with vendors whilst managing communications and resources. I implement effective change management practices and motivate internal teams. By implementing successful collaboration mechanisms, I ensure that large project groups can work together effectively.

As a result of my leadership skills and attention to detail, I run projects effectively while overcoming obstacles as they arise. I have led large-scale software, infrastructure and business implementations across expansive projects spanning multiple years. I believe my professional insight, dedication to quality, and passion for project management has been the formula for my success.

A sports fanatic, I am an avid squash player who enjoys running and cycling. I also love getting outdoors, camping and hiking.
