I take pride in being a dynamic and versatile leader with a proven ability to deliver the benefits of technology to diverse businesses in order to drive growth, performance and profitability. Throughout the years I've used my expertise to manage geographically and technically diverse teams as well as to consult with leading providers across industries such as aviation, manufacturing, telecommunications, food & beverage, real estate and travel.

Delivering solutions of the highest standard requires implementing best practice methodologies and building high performance teams. I work with team members and partners that also see the value of innovation and focus on developing flexible, scalable solutions, that allow organizations to grow quickly and securely, while managing risks and costs.

Professional Highlights

- Inspired and led large-scale global IT projects for multi-national organizations.
- Established an Innovation Centre for major travel organization.
